

Director of Clinical Training
PsyD Clinical Psychology Program
School of Graduate Psychology
Pacific University
2022

The School of Graduate Psychology (SGP) in the College of Health Professions at Pacific University Oregon invites applicants for a tenure-track position with DCT administrative responsibilities in the PsyD program beginning June 1, 2022. We seek applicants with a PhD or PsyD in Clinical Psychology (or closely related field) with experience in clinical training administration. Applicants with additional interest and/or experience in one or more of the following areas are encouraged to apply: Latinx populations, child and adolescent psychology, health psychology, or forensic psychology.

Consistent with APA's EDI Framework (2021), we are dedicated to creating a more accessible, equitable, and inclusive community that prepares future health service psychologists to work in a range of settings and roles. The successful candidate will oversee clinical training for the PsyD program, teach, and conduct and supervise research. Candidates must be licensed or license eligible in Oregon.

Applicants should submit the following:

1. Detailed letter of interest and competencies
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Evidence of teaching effectiveness including teaching evaluations
4. Reprints or preprints (if available)
5. EDI statement – specifically addressing the use of a biopsychosociocultural lens in your work (1 page)
6. Teaching & Mentorship statement (1 page)
7. Research/Scholarship statement (1 page)
8. Names of three referees

Applicants can submit their application materials electronically by visiting the following website:

The search begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding this position should be directed to the School of Graduate Psychology Dean, Joaquin Borrego, jborrego@paciflcu.edu.

In addition to the Clinical Psychology PsyD program (APA accredited), SGP is also home to the Applied Psychological Sciences MA program (MPCAC accredited) and the Clinical Psychology PhD program (APA accredited). SGP has 25 faculty and approximately 350 graduate students. SGP also has two interprofessional mental and behavioral health clinics, the Pacific Psychology and Comprehensive Health Clinics in downtown Portland and Hillsboro. SGP is housed within the College of Health Professions of Pacific University and is located in downtown Hillsboro, adjacent to Tuality Community Hospital. The College of Health Professions is also home to schools of physical therapy, audiology, occupational therapy, physician assistant studies, dental health science, pharmacy, and health care administration. Opportunities for interprofessional collaboration are plentiful.

Pacific University's Health Professions campus, located in Hillsboro, OR, is 15 miles west of Downtown Portland and easily accessible by public transit. The Portland-metro area consistently ranks among the most livable regions in the U.S., and the surrounding area (e.g., Mt. Hood National Forest, Pacific Ocean, Willamette Valley) provides a diverse variety of recreational activities. As an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, Pacific University strongly encourages BIPOC, persons with disabilities, women, and veterans to apply.
