

Tenure-Track Faculty Position in the Clinical Psychology PsyD Program Pacific University Child Emphasis Director

The School of Graduate Psychology (SGP) in the College of Health Professions at Pacific University Oregon is seeking applicants for a tenure-track position in the PsyD program beginning fall 2022. We seek applicants with a PhD or PsyD in Clinical Psychology (or closely related field) with specialization in child and adolescent clinical psychology to play a leadership role within our Child Emphasis.

We are an academic community that is dedicated to cultural infusion and preparation of clinical psychology doctoral students to work as health service psychologists in a range of settings and roles. The successful candidates will oversee the Child Emphasis, teach, mentor and advise students, conduct and supervise research, and may supervise clinical service delivery in SGP's training clinic. Candidates must be licensed or license eligible in Oregon.

Applicants should submit the following:

1. Detailed letter of interest and competencies
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Evidence of teaching effectiveness including teaching evaluations
4. Reprints or preprints (if available)
5. EDI statement (1 page)
6. Teaching & Mentorship statement (1 page)
7. Research/Scholarship statement (1 page)
8. Names of three referees

Applicants can submit their application materials by visiting the following website:

Questions regarding this position should be directed to the SGP Dean, Dr. Joaquin Borrego at jborrego@pacificu.edu.

In addition to the Clinical Psychology PsyD program (APA accredited), SGP is also home to the Applied Psychological Sciences MA program (MPCAC accredited) and the Clinical Psychology PhD program (APA accredited). SGP has 28 faculty and approximately 350 graduate students. SGP also has two interprofessional mental and behavioral health clinics, the Pacific Psychology and Comprehensive Health Clinics in downtown Portland and Hillsboro. The College of Health Professions is home to schools of physical therapy, audiology, occupational therapy, physician assistant studies, dental health science, pharmacy, and healthcare administration in Hillsboro, OR. Opportunities for interprofessional collaboration are plentiful and encouraged. The campus is 15 miles west of downtown Portland and easily accessible by public transit. The Portland-metro area consistently ranks among the most livable regions in the U.S., and the surrounding area (e.g., Mt. Hood National Forest, Pacific Ocean, Willamette Valley) provides a diverse variety of recreational activities. As an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, Pacific University encourages BIPOC, persons with disabilities, women, and veterans to apply. Salary is commensurate with education and experience. Filling these positions is contingent upon available funding.
