

PsyD Program Director
School of Graduate Psychology
Pacific University

The School of Graduate Psychology (SGP) at Pacific University is seeking applicants for a tenure- track position at the Associate or Full Professor level as the Director for its APA-accredited PsyD Program, beginning fall 2022. The PsyD Program is an academic community that is dedicated to cultural infusion and preparation of clinical psychology doctoral students to work as health service psychologists in a range of settings and roles.

The successful candidate must have a PhD or PsyD in clinical or counseling psychology and must be licensed or license eligible in the state of Oregon. Duties include overseeing the day-to-day operations and directing accreditation activities related to the APA-accredited PsyD Program. The ideal candidate will have experience with all aspects of program administration (including but not limited to curriculum development, refinement, student recruitment and retention, addressing student concerns, and leading program orientations) and innovative ideas about how to sustain quality training, community and clinical service, and clinical research and scholarship. The successful candidates will also teach, mentor and advise students, conduct and supervise research, and may supervise clinical service delivery in SGP's training clinic.

Applicants should submit the following:

1. Detailed letter of interest and competencies
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Evidence of teaching effectiveness including teaching evaluations
4. Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion statement
5. Teaching Philosophy and Mentorship statement
6. Research/Scholarship statement
7. Preprints or Reprints
8. Names of three referees

Applicants can submit their application materials electronically by visiting the following website:

The search begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding this position should be directed to the School of Graduate Psychology Dean, Joaquín Borrego, jborrego@pacificu.edu.

SGP is housed within the College of Health Professions of Pacific University and is located in downtown Hillsboro, adjacent to Tuality Community Hospital. The College of Health Professions is also home to schools of physical therapy, audiology, occupational therapy, physician assistant studies, dental health science, pharmacy, and health care administration. Opportunities for interprofessional collaboration are plentiful.

Pacific University's Health Professions campus, located in Hillsboro, OR, is 15 miles west of Downtown Portland and easily accessible by public transit. The Portland-metro area consistently ranks among the most livable regions in the U.S., and the surrounding area (e.g., Mt. Hood National Forest, Pacific Ocean, Willamette Valley) provides a diverse variety of recreational activities. As an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, Pacific University strongly encourages BIPOC, persons with disabilities, women, and veterans to apply.
